My dear Mr Lemon

I suppose by this time you have returned from your Egyptian trip, I therefore forward you my troublesome Certificate. I trust it is not annoying to you, to me, for I can assure you that nothing vexes me so much as troubling you so frequently with my trifling affairs. If circumstances would admit, I would gladly receive the pension once a year; but unfortunately that is not possible, for our funds as you may imagine are very low. I read the London paragraphs with great anxiety, for I am terribly afraid of some dreadful catastrophe.

With love to your wife

Believe me to remain

Yours very sincerely

My dear Mr Jerman

Many thanks for your kind letter, and the Cheque, which I received yesterday. I am glad to see that you entertain but little apprehension of the Jesuitical conspiracies, I trust this feeling is general. We have here also a minor negro, but hitherto, it is confined to Andalusia. The Andalusians are of a character very like the lower class of Irish, with little respect for life or property.

With kindest regards to your wife, believe me to remain
Yours very sincerely
Jenny Hunter de Lemos
